This campground and the Lost Valley Loop trail is adopted by Nisqually Chapter, Backcountry Horsemen of Washington. It is shared with other user groups on a first come basis. No reservations required and no fees charged.

There are several pull-through parking spots that have fire rings, picnic tables and corrals. Manure bins are nearby. No potable water available, but there's a creek for animal water. There are two outhouses. There is also a handicap mounting platform.

Trails are shared with horses, mules, hikers and bicyclists. The ATV users are restricted to roads only.

The Day Parking has highline poles and a vaulted toilet. There is also a handicap mounting platform. Parking space is limited.
